COLD-SHOULDERING COLDS

With a wheezy "blow, blow, breathe and blow" enters the great American demoralizer—the common cold. Early autumn days are especially inviting to the cold because homes and other buildings frequently remain unheated during the first few weeks of chilly weather.

More to be avoided than rumormongers are the sneezers and sniffers, since one is almost certain to be infected by the latter virus, while gossip can always be laughed off or ignored.

It should be the goal of every citizen, when afflicted with a cold, to isolate himself for a few days and thus help reduce the staggering toll of respiratory ailments brought about each year, at tremendous cost to business and industry, by those who thoughtlessly subject others to infection.

The "good neighbor" policy was never more imperatively needed than at the outset of the season of head colds, because epidemics of major proportions may easily be developed as a result of the careless procedure of mingling socially when one should be in bed.

But in lieu of health co-operation, it pays to cold-shoulder everyone with a cold, and, if infection nevertheless develops, to admit it and give in. Civilians should take a lesson from the Army in methods of fighting colds. When a soldier shows symptoms of sprouting a cold, he goes to the hospital.

FEW TEARS TO BE SHED

It is not likely that there will be many American tears shed over the difficulty in which British industrialists find themselves as a result of the action of their government in curtailing exports to markets in which United States businessmen are competitors.

The action was taken to lessen suspicion in the United States over the possibility that the British were using the lend-lease act to foster their own business interests.

British industrialists are frank concerning the effect of the curtailment. They know that export trade once lost is difficult to regain. But there are growing indications that they also realize that if suspicion is permitted to grow in America that Britain is feathering its commercial nest through lend-lease, the British empire may lose the war through relaxation of American aid.

The point that will be made by many Americans is that the British should have foreseen this difficulty. They had sufficient experience in previous wars to know that an empire as large and as rich as their own requires vast protection. True, they granted it naval protection to the utmost, but that was not sufficient.

But if British business expects to profit in peacetime, while failing to support an army and an air force adequate to defend its riches, it has to expect to meet some difficulties when, faced by destruction in war, its government finds it necessary to make an appeal for aid to another sovereign nation.

Gold is being found in the tundra again. Governor Gruening of Alaska declares that contractors from outside Alaska are "making tremendous fortunes" on Alaska defense projects. He added he was reliably informed the profits were "not less than 50 per cent."

Jellies That "Jell"

By Frances Lee Barton
IT'S jolly time again. Millions of housewives are making jams and jellies of different flavors and berries and fruits are in season — stocking those tasties that make winter meals so appetizing.

Follow the throng but be sure that your jellies "Jell."

A recipe like the following assures success to the new jelly maker, or the older one who has tried before and been disappointed:

Red Currant Mint Jelly
5 cups (2½ lbs.) juice; ¾ cup (3 oz.) spearmint leaves and stems, packed; 7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar; ½ bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare juice, crush about 4 pounds fully ripe red currants. Wash spearmint and chop. Add mint and 1 cup water to crushed currants; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Yardley Civic Club Begins Year's Activities

YARDLEY, Sept. 20—The Yardley Civic Club opened its club year with a "Soiree" in the St. Andrew's parish house, on Thursday evening, with 175 present.

The address of the evening, "America and This Mad World," was given by Frazier Hunt, a well-known news commentator, who has just recently moved to Bucks County, where he has purchased two farms. Mr. Hunt described in detail the battle fronts of this war, taking us from country to country, telling of the customs, habits and land formations. Following his address, a "Town Hall" was held, with Mr. Hunt answering a number of questions which were put to him.

Miss Lillian E. VanArtsdalen favored with a number of solo selections, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. William Howett, of Trenton.

Guests at the affair included members of the faculty of the Yardley school, the members of the Yardley Junior Club, and the husbands of all members.

Ten was served, with Mrs. W. D. Pardee, Mrs. Norman Druck, Mrs. Alfred A. Danner and Miss Frances L. Cadwalader pouring. Assisting with the hospitality for the affair were Mrs. Charles F. Cook, Mrs. Dorothy L. Steinman, Mrs. J. S. Wright, Mrs. S. Force, Mrs. Greiner K. Hammer, and a number of other members of the club. Mrs. H. N. Curtis, chairman of the music committee, arranged the affair.

Miss Helen W. Leedom, the newly-elected president, presided.

The first business session of the club will be held in the club rooms on Thursday, October 2nd, at 2 o'clock. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Robert C. Belleville, 3rd, and will include talks, "Travelling in the Americas," by Land, Water and Air," with Mrs. Darrell L. Noyes, and Miss Elizabeth S. Weeks, and Mrs. Belleville, as speakers.

Dinner To Signal Opening Of Concert Membership Drive

The dinner which will signal the opening of the membership drive for Bristol Concert Association will be served on Monday evening at seven o'clock, at Fischer's Tea Room, Scuders Falls, N. J.

Arrangements were first made to have this dinner served in Bristol, but due to unforeseen circumstances the local hotel proprietor was unable to accommodate the group.

The drive for memberships will close on September 27th.

Bristol Concert Association officials anticipate a far larger membership than for the season of 1940-41.

Outstanding artists of the musical world will be engaged for the Bristol series of concerts during the coming season.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Making their auspicious debuts together in their first featured roles, Lee Bonnell and blonde Elyse Knox have the romantic leads in RKO Radio's riotous comedy, "Footlight Fever," today.

Young Bonnell, born in Indiana and "discovered" through a radio talent contest, is cast as a leading man in a Broadway show, Miss Knox, one of New York's loveliest models, portrays his sweetheart.

The more you die the longer you last as an actor, according to Edward G. Robinson. Robinson's death scene in "Manpower," the new film which opens at the Grand Theatre on Sunday, with Marlene Dietrich and George Raft in the co-starring roles, marks about his 20th such last reel exit in ten years as a Hollywood star.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Bubbling over with all the brisk gaiety of carefree college youth, "Sweetheart of the Campus" has been praised by preview critics for its romantic narrative, its delightful music, its talented cast and its completely captivating comedy. The fact that the musical, which opened last night at the Bristol Theatre, has Ruby Keeler, Ozzie Nelson and his band, Harriet Hilliard and Gordon Oliver in its stellar cast is another point among the many cited as reasons for "Sweetheart of the Campus" being one of the "must see" films.

RITZ THEATRE

several members of the faculty contributed their labor. New curtains for the stage are a gift of the graduating class of 1941. The store has been relocated in the Main Building. The younger boys' dormitory has a new social room. A stoker has been installed under one boiler in the new power plant with coal handling equipment. The physics laboratory has been remodelled. Additional drives and parking areas have been paved. At the present time several boys are clearing a corner of the woods near the gymnasium for the building of an outdoor court for boys' exercises. The girls have had a similar court for several years.

Says China Will Never
Bow To The Japanese

"If I had the power I would send all you Christian young people to China—not to fight the Japanese, but to fight for Christ," was a challenging statement made by the speaker. He then gave as his text, Philippians 1:7—"Even as it is meet for me to think of you all, because I have you in my heart; inasmuch as both in my bonds, and in the defense and confirmation of the gospel; ye all are partakers of my grace."

After stressing the great privilege the group of young people assembled have of worshipping the Lord Jesus Christ, the Rev. Mr. Ko reminded of the words of the Lord, "Ye have not chosen Me, but I have chosen you," adding "You ought to be glad to have the opportunity to go into the uttermost parts of the world to witness for God."

The quality of courage which a soldier of the Lord must have was stressed. Then likening training in the battle for the right, to the training in army camps today, the speaker said:

"The soldiers in the camps exercise to secure strength. But in the battle for Christ strength is gained in the Sunday School and church; and our ammunition comes from the Bible."

Turning attention to present conditions in his stricken country, the clergyman mentioned the desire of the Christian Chinese to aid their enemy. "We won't be satisfied to merely conquer the enemy (Japan), but we want to give her something worth-while—the Gospel of Jesus Christ. . . . The Chinese cannot bow to Japan. We can only bow to God."

The program was in charge of Miss Dorothy Lovett, Emilie, president of the Bristol Group. A vocal solo, "He Is Mine," was given by the Rev. C. J. Buzzard, pastor of Newtown Methodist Church. An instrumental quartet, provided accompaniment for group singing.

Named to judge the booths were Miss Mabel Connard, Philadelphia, 3rd vice-president of the North District of the Epworth League; Miss Betty Ann Snyder, Florence, N. J.; and Mrs. Hemsley, Morrisville, the latter two being members of Trenton District of the League.

The winners of displays were announced as follows:

Trevose, first place; Bensalem, second place; Emilie, third place.

The awards were made on the following basis: Two points for value of the products, four for originality, six points for attractiveness, eight for the manner in which the Bible verse was pictured, making 20 points in all.

Trevose was given 18 points; Bensalem, 16 points, and Emilie 14.

There was a total of seven booths arranged in the Sunday School room, each representing a Bible verse, with gifts of food or coins used in connection with the same, to be presented to the mission represented by the speaker and to the Fifth Street Mission in Philadelphia.

Emilie-Fallsington League used its verse "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" (Matt. 6:21). The words of the verse were spelled in pennies arranged on a large sign at the back of the booth. On the main table of the booth pennies were being carted from a "Mine of Helpfulness," and small trucks laden with them had heaped a huge pile of the penny donations. A large doll held red, white and blue ribbons which stretched to world missionary fields.

Bensalem Leaguers chose the verse from Deut. 26:2: "That thou shalt take of the first of all the fruit of the earth, which thou shalt bring of thy land that the Lord thy God giveth thee, and shalt put it in a basket and shalt go unto the place which the Lord thy God shall choose to place his name there." A large brown cornucopia filled with fruits was arranged on a background of gold tone. Canned and fresh fruits were laden on the table. Harriman Church used as its theme its basic verse "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life," with the path to a church, a Bible, and the cross atop the church, representing the Way, Truth and Life, respectively. Jellies and canned goods were presented.

Trevose League members, using a large fishing net, in which images of fish were caught, brought sea foods, which were well arranged.

"I am come down to bring them unto a land flowing with milk and honey" formed the background for the idea used by Newtown League. A dairy farm showed well-cared for buildings and cattle; with cans of milk and jars of honey piled high.

Yardley League members had a replica of their church building, as a background, with a toy truck laden with goods approaching. Packaged cereals, and canned foods were the gifts for the mission.

Morrisville's choice of verses was "My cup runneth over." The booth was so arranged that a cup overflowing with an offering of pennies, boxes of toys were gathered on the table.

BULLDOGS TAKE THE OPENING GAME FROM TRENTON TEAM

Morrisville Eleven Beats New Jersey School for Deaf By Score of 19 to 0

4 FLEET-FOOTED BACKS

"Whipper" Wallace Gives An Amazing Exhibition of Early Season Form

(By Jack Gill)
MORRISVILLE, Sept. 20—Morrisville High School sent four fleet-footed backs into action last night at Robert Morris Field, under the arc-lights, as they defeated the New Jersey Institute for the Deaf eleven in the season's scholastic opener, 19 to 0.

Whipper Wallace, jackrabbit back of the Bulldogs, gave an amazing exhibition of early season form as he scampered his way off tackle from a deep kick formation time and time again for substantial gains as well as two crowd pleasing touchdowns. He also figured in Morrisville's other score when he hurled a picture pass of 50-yard proportions to Don McClannan.

The contest was a spirited affair with a little bickering and fist moving here and there. Both teams tackled viciously at times and two unnecessary roughness penalties were inflicted upon the squads.

A severe case of fumbleitis hurt both teams at the start. The Dogs recovered one early in the initial chucker on the Mutes' 37-yard stripe. Hutchinson and Wallace moved it to the 11 in two tries. Then Hutchinson fumbled on the next play and Yap recovered for the Deaf School on the four. They then booted out of danger.

Wallace later whipped a pass to Phillips, who was interfered with, and the ball was placed by the officials on the Deaf School's 23. Wilcox went to the 20 and again Hutchinson fumbled. On the next play the Deaf School was guilty of the same sin, and Murray was the man of the hour for Morrisville, recovering on the 10. Wallace skidded across off tackle to make it 6-0.

The second period found Wallace fading back to past mid-field and hurling a long, accurate pass to end Don McClannan, who broke into the clear ten yards from the white stripe. No enemy defender was near him as he stepped across, making Morrisville's total read 12 to 0. Wilcox's placement upped the Dogs' advantage to 13-0.

The final six-pointer, coming late in the third period, was another beautiful off tackle smash by Wallace from the 23-yard line. Wallace, standing away back, allows his interference to be set up for him before he shuttles his way through. Slanting off tackle, he then shoots either to his right or left. This time he went to his right and eluded a host of would-be Deaf School tacklers.

The Mutes' only bright spot was the running of big Bob Patten, giant 210-pound Mute back, who began tearing off large gains through the Morrisville line late in the final quarter. But the entire Jersey crew was outsmarted by an alert Bulldog eleven. Captain Al Noack performed in yeoman-like fashion at guard for the Mutes by breaking up many Dog plays single-handedly.

Morrisville has something. In averaging last year's 7 to 0 licking, they purposely held back a little with Trenton coaches and players lingering in packed stands watching keenly for something to work on in preparation for their game with the Dogs next Saturday. The backs are fast, smart and work together neatly as an alert quartette. The ends are extremely fast and can get down-field without a moment's hesitation. The line was fair last night, but won't get its acid test until next week.

Church Softball League Closes Season With Banquet

The banquet closing the season for the Lower Bucks County Church Softball League was held last night in the dining hall of the Bristol Presbyterian Church with the members of the choir of the Bristol Methodist Church preparing and serving the menu.

The Rev. James R. Gailey, president of the League, presided, and opened the program with the invocation. Then there was singing of the Star Spangled Banner, after which the repast was enjoyed.

The trophy—a banner—for the 1941 season, was presented by Walter Miller, vice-president of the League, to the team of the Bristol Methodist Church, crowned champions of the 1941 season. The acceptance was by Leslie Moss

LOCAL SANDLOT GRID TEAMS TO HAVE PRACTICE TOMORROW

(By Jack Gill)

Sunday will be just another working day for candidates who desire to play local independent football this season. Both the St. Ann's and Bristol Pros have called practice for tomorrow.

Little is known about John Mulholand's newly proposed pro eleven. However, the veteran Bristol sportsman has called his initial practice of the season for Sunday morning at 10 o'clock on Leedom's field.

The enthusiastic group of youthful gridriders who are behind the St. Ann's club have been scouting around town in behalf of the winners.

Warm congratulations were showered upon the League members for their successful season by David Landreth, Bristol's No. 1 baseball citizen. Mr. Landreth also felicitated the winners and all those who had taken part in the activities of the League. He concluded his talk by reciting some reminiscences of his baseball career.

Awards for 1941 were also presented to "Heistie" Grimes, manager of the Upper Half All-Star team and also acting manager of the Methodist team, as well as to Harry Erny, Lower Half All-Star team manager and manager of the Community Presbyterian team. The presentations were made by Raymond Dewees, secretary of the League.

Humorous awards were given to the managers of the other teams in the League.

"Winning Baseball," the National League's official sound motion picture, was shown through the courtesy of Clarence Winter and the Philadelphia National League Club.

"Bill" Phillips, publicity director of the Philadelphia National League Club, made a short address and also told some interesting facts about his league baseball.

The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. F. Panetta, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour.

BENSALEM HIGH IN SPIRITED PRACTICE FOR BOYERTOWN XI

New Coach Grooms Prospects For Back Posts

MOSSBROOK IS CAPTAIN

Owls To Scrimmage With Jenkintown This Tuesday

By Jack Gill

The Bensalem Owls are flying around like diplomats at an emergency session down at Cornwells Heights as they prepare for their opening grid contest of the season next Saturday against Boyertown.

New Coach Norwood Wetherhold, a graduate of Allentown High School and Stroudsburg State Teachers College, and who last year coached basketball and baseball at Littlestown, located outside of Gettysburg, has been working the Owls in spirited practice sessions for next week's opener. This Tuesday a scrimmage with Jenkintown is on tap.

Although Wetherhold is a comparative stranger to Bensalem, he nevertheless has an inkling as to the type of boys at the Owl school. He has been impressed with the spirit and zip displayed by his minions in their early drills.

Captain Dick Mossbrook is back to head the backfield. The hard plunging back of last year's second place contingent will work with George Carter, the only other returning veteran. Gene Ashton, rugged end of the 1940 campaign, and Len Edlys, a tackle, will both be shifted to the ball carrying department. Edlys is the same well built boy who spun off tingling times in the dashes in last year's district track test.

Bensalem has been hard hit this season. Only four linemen return for duty up front. Heacock and Roberts are back at the two tackles and Patterson and Lambie return to take care of the guard slots. Wetherhold is grooming Adrian, Werle and Silcox for the other remaining berths.

A group of 33 boys reported for the varsity and many underclassmen have shown marked ability. Several may work their way to varsity spots before the campaign is concluded.

Wetherhold plans to operate Bensalem this year from a single wing formation behind an unbalanced line. With a tough list of opponents lined up on the Owl card and with much rebuilding to do, Wetherhold has a stiff job on his hands keeping the Owls up in second place. Bensalem awaits the Boyertown opening and looks ahead to Bristol, the team they have taken the measure of for the past two successive seasons. Next week's opener may be a tell-tale of what may be expected from them.

At the opposite end of the front around the Black Sea port of Odessa, the Russian military situation was described as "considerably improved" by Vice-Foreign Commissar S. A. Lozovsky, chief Soviet spokesman.

Lozovsky said the Germans recently seth reinforcements to the Odessa area after Romanian Premier Gen. Antonescu warned Chancellor Hitler that Romanian army losses have been so great that the Romanians could not continue the siege of Odessa without aid.

(A British radio broadcast heard by CBS quoted a Swedish war correspondent with German troops at the Leningrad front as reporting the Germans are "still 18 miles from the city at their nearest point.")

Nothing makes a selective service man in camp happier than a letter from home or a home-town newspaper in the daily mail, army officials said recently after an extensive survey.

Next in order, the selective service youth likes sweets such as candy, cookies and chocolates—and chewing gum!

Officers say that on the march the gum helps keep the boys from drinking too much water and from dipping into their lunch ration.

Other offerings which bring a smile of pleasure to the enrollee include a general repertoire of utilities among which are books of stamps, flashlights, a towel now and then, toilet articles, and reading materials.

Officers say that if relatives want to be sure their addressee gets what's mailed to him, they should address the letter or package in this way: Name first, his company or battery second, his regiment third, and, lastly the name of the post office.
